

Survey on Poverty - Dundee Fairness Commission

The Dundee Fairness Commission is an independent working group looking at how Dundee can do more to tackle and reduce poverty in the city. To inform our work, we want to know the views and hear the stories of people in Dundee who are experiencing poverty or working to help those who are. We want to understand the reality of poverty in Dundee so that we can recommend the best possible action. Please tell us what you think by answering any or all of the questions below.

We know your story may involve personal details so we will treat everything you tell us confidentially. If you are happy for us to use your name when we are presenting views to the Commission, please include your name below. And if you'd like us to be able to contact you to follow up on anything you tell us, please include your email address or telephone number. The survey will be available any time between now and the end of February 2016, when the Commission is due to hold its last meeting. There will also be a separate survey running for the month or so leading up to each meeting of the Commission, with a focus on the next subject on which they will be hearing presentations and evidence. The next meeting is on 25th August, and will focus on Educational Attainment. A survey on that will be published here towards the end of July.
